

WILL ELIMINATE FIVE-CENT LOAF

Bakers of Rock Island, Moline, East Moline and Silvis Agree to Making Larger Size.

WILL MAKE SAVING ON LABOR
Hope to Offset Increased Cost of Production by Putting in Less Amount of Work.

Now the 5-cent loaf has been tabooed in Rock Island, too. At a meeting last night of the Bakers' association of Rock Island, Moline, East Moline and Silvis it was decided to abandon entirely the making of the 5-cent loaf of bread and adopt the plan, already in force in Davenport and most of the other cities of the country, of producing only the 10-cent loaf. No action was taken on rolls or any other of the bakery products last night, but they are expected to be considered at the next meeting, to be held next Tuesday.

In agreeing to cut out the small loaf and making only the 10-cent size it was decided not to do as bakers have done elsewhere, that is, to reduce the amount of dough used in the larger loaf. The local bakers figure to have the saving on labor alone make up for the increased cost of materials for the production of bread. It has in the past required as much time for the making of the nickel loaf as for the 10-cent loaf, and in eliminating the smaller one the bakers believe the saving in labor alone will be sufficient to offset, or at least partly reduce, the increased cost of materials.

Change Occurs Next Monday.

The new exclusive 10-cent loaf will make its appearance on the market next Monday and at the same time the 5-cent loaf will make its exit.

At the meeting last night at Turner hall the Rock Island Master Bakers' club was formed. The following officers were named:

President—John Quinlan, Rock Island.
Vice president—John Pepping, Moline.
Secretary-treasurer—W. P. Peters, Moline.

MERCHANT IS FINED FOR PART IN FIGHT

After having trouble some three or four months ago, Tony Torri visited the confectionery and fruit store conducted by Pat Bunacore at 1508 Second avenue, last night. According to testimony offered in police court, Bunacore told Torri, who lives in a box car at the foot of Fifteenth street, to go away and leave him alone. Torri is said to have then put his hand into one of his pockets as if to draw a weapon, whereupon Bunacore promptly delivered a blow straight from the shoulder that found its mark on Torri's right arm. About that time a policeman appeared and the two were taken to the station. In court they pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and were fined $5 each.

ANOTHER IS FORCED TO PAY HIS DOG TAX

Another citizen of Rock Island today paid the price of eight dog taxes and 10 cents more for not carrying out the mandate of Chief Miller, which was to the effect that persons who had canines and had not paid taxes on them to get busy and do so as soon as possible.

The man who "came across" today was James Mercer, 541 Twentieth street. James when arraigned in court before Police Magistrate C. J. Smith, admitted being the owner of a dog, but pleaded ignorance of the law, saying that he was under the impression that if the animal was kept inside the premises no tax had to be paid on it. But Officer Kinney was on hand and testified that on numerous occasions to his knowledge the dog had been outside its owner's premises. After hearing the tale of the defendant and testimony against him the judge said $8 and cost and $1 for dog tax, making a total of $9.10.

ASSOCIATION HOUSE WILL BE OPENED SOON

According to plans now being made by the executive committee of the Associated Charities the Association house at 637 Seventeenth street, will shortly be reopened and ready to receive those who care to take advantage of its accommodations. The home has been closed for several months, or since the illness of the matron and during the summer months when there is comparatively little aid asked. The home will be thoroughly renovated, remodeled and placed in a sanitary condition.

itary condition. The executive committee is negotiating for a matron who has had large experience in charitable work and she will probably be in the city in the course of a few weeks. The association is in need of some good furnishings for the home and if there are any who have good dressers, bedding or rugs which they care to give to the home the committee of which Mrs. Ella Godfrey is chairman, will be glad to know of it. The committee, however, asks that the furnishings be good and in a useable condition as it is desired to make the home just as attractive as possible. A number of important changes are being considered in the handling of charity, these to be further discussed at the annual meeting which will be held the first Thursday in October. Another meeting of the association will be held Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. when supper will be served and when plans for the year's work will be outlined and discussed.

SEEK LIFE STORY OF AGED RECLUSE

History of Chicago Millionaire Expected To Be Told On the Witness Stand.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—The family history of Edward W. Morrison, the 80-year-old millionaire, was expected to be detailed on the witness stand in Federal Judge Landis' court today, when the bankruptcy hearing was resumed.

Mrs. Philo R. King, widow of the late James Morrison, and stepmother of Edward W. Morrison, was the witness testimony. It was believed, would throw some interesting sidelights upon Edward Morrison's financial entanglements.

The identity of Mrs. Tekla Gephart, who, according to James R. Ward, deposed attorney for Morrison, loaned the sum of $18,000, may also be disclosed.

The petition of Frank H. Culver, Morrison's attorney, asking that the case be removed from the jurisdiction of Judge Landis, will come up for decision before Judge Samuel A. Alschuler in the circuit court of appeals tomorrow afternoon.

The will of James M. Morrison, whose $8,000,000 estate is involved in the bankruptcy proceedings against his son, Edward W. Morrison, has been tampered with, Mrs. Philo R. King, Morrison's stepmother, testified in the hearing before Federal Judge Landis today. The word "forever," she said, has been inserted in the will now on file. The word does not appear in the original document, a copy of which she saved from the Chicago fire in 1871. The substitution of the word, she testified, changes the entire meaning of the clause under which the property was conveyed to Morrison. The original will, she said, did not convey the property "forever," but only during Edward Morrison's life.

AUTO FORCED OVER CURB ON BOULEVARD

A. E. Danielson, Moline undertaker, and Oscar Anderson of Rock Island experienced a narrow escape from serious injury shortly before noon today in an automobile accident on Seventh avenue near Forty-fourth street. Anderson was driving a seven-passenger car east on Seventh avenue, following a truck. The driver of the truck swung south at Forty-fourth without signaling the car behind, and in order to avoid a collision Anderson was forced to swerve his car over the curb. The machine turned over partially. Danielson and Anderson escaped with a few minor bruises.

LIGHT VOTE CAST IN THE PRIMARY

Little Interest Chosen in Making Party Nominations Regardless of Republican Contests.

BETTER RESULTS IN MOLINE
Only Few Women Exercise Right of Franchise Since They Ballot Only on Two Offices.

Contrary to expectations, an unusually light vote is being polled in the city at the primaries today. It was figured that the tight fight which has been put up by the republicans for state's attorney, probate clerk, circuit clerk and coroner, as well as for the congressional and legislative nominations would arouse exceptional interest, but this did not prove the case. Because there were no contests in the democratic ranks, exception for the legislature and for governor which has developed within the last few days, it was not expected that the members of the party generally would make a special effort to visit the polls. It was figured, however, that with a spirited scrap all along the line among the republicans, that that party would cast something near its normal vote.

Heavy Moline Vote.

Up to an early hour this afternoon, considerably less than a third of the electorate had exercised their right of franchise. In Moline, it is understood that a much heavier vote has been cast, the various candidates for state's attorney living in that city having succeeded in getting their friends to the polls early.

Only a few women are voting in the county today. There were but two offices for which they could exercise a preference, member of the state board of equalization and county surveyor, and evidently the women did not think it worth their while to visit the polls under the circumstances.

MAJOR-GEN. BLISS JOINS THE ENVOYS

Joint Commission Takes Up Questions Affecting Future Peace On the Border.

New London, Conn., Sept. 13.—With the arrival here today of Major General Bliss from Washington, American members of the joint international commission prepared to take up again the question of devising an adequate system of policing the Mexican boundary.

The conferences have taken up, while awaiting General Bliss, outlines of economic and political conditions in Mexico. In presenting the latter report yesterday, Luis Cabrera, head of the Mexican commission, drew attention to the progress the Carranza government had made.

In January, 1915, he said, the Carranza forces controlled only a fringe of states along the gulf coast and a few ports on the west. The remainder of the country was in the hands of Villa and Zapata and their followers. Since General Carranza today faces only scattered outlaw bands, and there is nothing approaching organized military opposition to his rule throughout the country, his representatives apparently feel justified in predicting that complete order soon will be reestablished.

The Mexican members of the commission assured their American conferees today that recent decrees by General Carranza fixing the taxation on mining properties in Mexico were intended to be confiscatory in any sense.

The real purpose of the Carranza government was two fold, they said, being both to raise internal revenue and foster development of Mexican industries on a reasonable scale. The Mexican representatives stated further that the scheme adopted was designed to put into operation properties now lying dormant, and also to make the

DOUBLY PROVEN

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

There were also other symptoms, which plainly showed my kidneys were weak. I had often heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and finally got a box. They acted just as represented and gave me prompt relief." (Statement given April 5, 1909.)

Over five years later, Mr. Fisher said: "I have never missed a day's work and have been in the best of health ever since using Doan's Kidney Pills and am fixed up in good shape."

burden of taxation heavier upon the larger operators.

Today the commissioners devoted their attention almost exclusively to a study of the effect on American-owned properties in Mexico, particularly the mines, of the present taxation decrees. For purposes of illustration specific cases were taken up which have been laid before the state department on complaints by American owners that they could not operate under the burden imposed.

The Mexican commissioners pointed out that there had been as yet no case where any American owned property had been forfeited under the decrees.

U.S. ARMY MULES LOST BY NEGLECT

Captain Walrath and Captain Laas of Illinois Militia are Facing Court Martial By Gen. Funston.

San Antonio, Sept. 13.—A request that Captains J. H. Walrath and Fred W. Laas, quartermasters respectively of the First and Second Illinois regiments of infantry, be returned here for court martial, was sent to the war department at Washington by Major General Funston. It was charged they were guilty of neglect of duty in caring for government property by losing some fifty horses and mules valued at about $15,000 belonging to the United States army.

The lost animals were among others turned over to the two regiments when they came south. Receipts were given by the quartermasters. It is not known what became of the horses and mules.

General Funston said he would prosecute every supply officer in the service guilty of this sort of negligence.

"If the practice continues the government will lose huge sums of money," he added.

The general explained that prompt action in this instance was necessary in order that other regimental quartermasters may be convinced of the necessity of an accounting for all government property in their possession when they prepare to return north again.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 13.—When shown the Associated Press dispatch that Major General Funston asked his court martial because of the loss of United States army horses and mules, Captain Fred W. Laas, quartermaster of the Second regiment, in camp here, said it was the first information he had received of the case. He denied that any large number of horses or mules in his custody had been lost.

"Several animals got away from us, but most of them were returned. I didn't have 50 horses or mules in my care, and am certain we did not lose but three or four," said Captain Laas. Captain Walrath, also mentioned in the dispatch, is not in camp here. It is believed he is either in San Antonio or en route to Springfield. Brigadier General D. Jack Foster, commander of the First brigade, said he had no knowledge of the loss of the animals.

HUGHES ENDS FIRST CAMPAIGN TRAVELS

New York, Sept. 13.—Charles E. Hughes ended his first presidential campaign trip here today. He reached the city at an early hour, went to a hotel, and later will depart for his summer home at Bridgehampton, L. I.

The trip was one of the longest in time and mileage ever taken by a presidential nominee. Mr. Hughes left here on the night of Aug. 5 and traveled 29 days. His itinerary took him from Portland, Me., to San Diego, Cal., through Canada, to within sight of the Mexican border. He visited 25 states, spoke at all the chief centers of population in the country, exclusive of the south, and including the capitals of 10 states, and traveled 11,494 miles by rail. In addition he averaged more than 400 miles a week by motor, or about 2,500 miles, making the total mileage of his trip approximately 14,000 miles.

STRIKERS IN MESEBA RANGE VOTE TO RETURN

Crosby, Minn., Sept. 13.—After having lost several weeks' work, "wounded" their families and themselves hovering on the brink of starvation with nothing between them and one of northern Minnesota's winters, they said, about 200 members of the Industrial Workers of the World, which organization called a strike of iron miners on the Cuyuna range, met in executive session today and voted to call off the strike.

Whether the mine operators will accept the men back on their old jobs is not known.

NOVEL "SENTENCES" FOR YOUNG SPEEDERS

Long Beach, Cal., Sept. 13.—Six children "sentenced" yesterday for violating traffic regulations today began the task of memorizing the city's traffic ordinance, which contains approximately 5,000 words. They are under orders to return in two weeks prepared to recite the ordinance before Judge Carl V. Hawkins.

Charges against the youths, all of whom were riding bikes or driving automobiles, involved passing street cars when passengers were alighting, "cutting" street corners, or speeding.

ENGLAND SLOW ABOUT LIFTING OF EMBARGO

New York, Sept. 13.—Importers here were disappointed today by information that Nanton W. Wyvell, who was sent to London by the state department to negotiate for the release of German and Austrian goods to the value of several million dollars detained at Rotterdam, is soon to leave England for America without having obtained from the British authorities more than a promise to consider the applications in due time.

Since the latter part of June Mr. Wyvell, who is a foreign trade adviser to the state department, has been making efforts to induce the British government to permit the German and Austrian goods to come through.

GREECE IS NEAR ENTRY INTO WAR

Resignation of Cabinet Seen as Sign That Athenians Will Go Over to the Allies.

Athens, Sept. 12, (via London, Sept. 13, 8:30 a. m., delayed.)—King Constantine has accepted the resignation of Premier Zaimis and his cabinet.

The belief is entertained in the entente capitals that the retirement of the Zaimis ministry is preliminary to the entrance of Greece in the war with the entente allies. Recent dispatches from Berlin and Vienna show that there also it is regarded as certain Greece will soon abandon neutrality.

The precise causes which led to the resignation of the ministry have not been disclosed, on account of the exceptionally rigid censorship. A London dispatch yesterday said M. Zaimis had complained that internal incidents were preventing him from dealing with the external situation. It is believed in London that his resignation was due to the fact that he accepted the premiership on the understanding that he was to maintain neutrality, and in view of the Bulgarian occupation of Greek territory had found this impossible.

Up to the time of the first dispatch announcing that M. Zaimis had presented his resignation his retirement was unexpected, for it was understood the premier had assumed dictatorial powers and was in an exceptionally strong position.

Political affairs reached a crisis after the Bulgarians invaded northeastern Greece and followers of former Premier Venizelos served warning on King Constantine that he must abandon the advisers who, it was said, had misled him and influenced him in favor of Germany. At the same time, M. Venizelos expressed confidence in M. Zaimis, whom he asked the king to support, and it was understood an agreement had been reached under which the Zaimis ministry was to continue in power with the strong support of the Venizelos party.

After the fall of the Venizelos cabinet last October, on account of the king's disagreement with its policy favoring intervention in the war with the allies, M. Zaimis was called on to form a cabinet. He announced a policy of armed neutrality. The cabinet resigned in November, but in June M. Zaimis was again placed at the head of the government. Although advocating neutrality, he was regarded as having a predisposition toward the entente.

BUTTERFLIES GOING SOUTH LIKE BIRDS

Nature students of Rock Island were much interested today in observing the flight of thousands of milkweed butterflies to the south, apparently being driven along by a strong northwest wind. The insects measure about five inches from tip to tip. Some authorities are of the opinion that they migrate as do birds, although the milkweed is the only kind of butterfly which has this habit, it is said.

SINGLE TAXER IS WORKING IN CITY

Louis Wallis of Chicago, Representing the Joseph Fels Fund Commission, in Rock Island.

WILL HOLD PUBLIC MEETINGS

Growth of the Plan in the United States and European Countries Is Discussed by Visitor.

That the great war is bringing questions of public finance rapidly to the front, and that one of the largest cities of the British empire, Sydney, Australia, has just adopted the single tax on land values made famous by the American writer, Henry George, are some of the facts emphasized by Louis Wallis of Chicago, who is in Rock Island and vicinity this week representing the Fels Fund Commission of America. Mr. Wallis is doing organizing and educational work and will hold street meetings here. He is stopping at the Harms hotel. Speaking to an Argus reporter this morning, he said: "More than a quarter of a million dollars has been spent by the commission financing political campaigns and promoting the single tax idea. The Pennsylvania legislature has recently passed a law applying to cities of Pittsburgh and Scranton class reducing taxes on improvements and increasing taxes on land values. Houston, Texas, is moving in the same direction. The republican nominee for North Dakota is running on a single tax platform."

"The removal of taxes from improvements, together with the increases of of taxes on land values, in several provinces of western Canada, gave one of the earliest signs that a new idea in social reform is being transferred to the realm of practice. The organized farmers of the state of Washington showed the influence of their neighbors across the line when, at a recent meeting of their state grange, they adopted a resolution in favor of placing all taxes on the value of land. Nearly one hundred thousand votes have been cast for single tax during the last five years in various American states west of the Mississippi. The actual adoption of single tax, or of approaches to it, in various parts of the world, lends special interest to the work of the Joseph Fels Fund Commission of America."

Wife Carries on Work.
"Founded by a business man and his wife, and its work assisted by many contributors and co-laborers, the Joseph Fels Fund Commission of America is engaged in promoting the single tax philosophy of Henry George, to the end that the exclusive taxation of land values shall be written into law as quickly as possible. The work of the Fels commissioners in other parts of the world has been interrupted by the war, but will be resumed later on. The growth of single tax ideas in England was well under way before the great European conflict broke out. The adoption of the famous Lloyd George budget, taxing land values more than hitherto, and the loss of the house of lords' veto power, were direct outgrowths of campaigns strongly supported by Joseph Fels and his British friends."

"The activities of the Fels commission are supported by voluntary subscriptions which are matched dollar for dollar, by Mrs. Joseph Fels, who is continuing the work of her husband, the late Joseph Fels. The commission backs political campaigns and also general single tax propaganda."
